to believe that diet, change in use of medical food, or other factors affecting blood phe level (such toxic