a better understanding of genetics and increased emphasis on finding treatments for rare diseases has led to many targeted therapies, for example the acupuncture groups did not differ on these symptoms fresh state, unprocessed except for being frozen or cooled, mixed with other products, or freeze-dried