the oig reported that patients of referring physicians who owned or invested in independent clinical laboratories received 45 percent more laboratory services than all medicare patients in general. in some cases, the drug may have to be temporarily discontinued, especially if the child has been exposed to a potentially serious infection, such as chicken pox.